TEDDY HOOK PAYS CHECK AND SECURES FREEDOM; IS WANTED

Young Man For Whom Local Police
Held State Warrant For Return to Portsmouth, Ohio, Obtains
Release on Local Charge and Makes Get Away.

When Constable John Mitchell arrested Teddy Hook last week on a charge of forgery the local police thought that a big find had been made and that if Hook escaped prosecution on the local charge he would be arrested under a state warrant from the state of Ohio which had been on file in the police station here for some time.

Late Saturday Hook was taken out of jail before Squire Fred Dresel and as the prosecuting witness would not appear against him on a charge of forgery and as the charge was reduced to issuing a cold check, he was allowed to pay the amount of the check as the twenty day limit, fixed by law, had not expired and he was released.

Squire Dresel was not informed about the Ohio state warrant and the young man was released. The police are now looking for him to re-arrest him on the Ohio warrant and hold him for the authorities at Portsmouth where he is wanted on a charge of forgery but as young Hook is not easily arrested by an officer it is more than likely that the police will have considerable trouble in locating him and it is more than likely that he will not be in the hands of the law again for sometime unless an officer unknown to him happens to get hold of him.

GUN STOLEN FROM HORD RESIDENCE FOUND SUNDAY

Band of Newport Boy Robbers "Pulled Job" at Hord Residence—Boy Held in County Jail Tells Prisoner
Who Later Tells Officer.

Officer P. Ryan Sunday found the 38 caliber Colts Special revolver stolen from the home of Mr. Oliver Hord in Fourth street last week hidden under a pile of railroad ties along the C. & O. railroad near the cattle pens at Wood street.

Clifford Rhein, the member of the crowd of Newport boy thieves who last week gave himself up to the local officers, told Lewis Harris, state prisoner now under conviction for murder and held in the county jail, that his crowd had ransacked the Hord residence. He told Harris that the Hord revolver was hidden under a pile of railroad ties along the C. & O. railroad and that if he ever got out to get the valuable revolver.

After Rhein had been taken back to Newport Saturday by a probation officer of that city, Harris told the local police what Rhein had told him and after searching along the road Sunday Officer Ryan found the gun and will return it to Mr. Hord.

City Attorney Charles L. Daly, has returned from New York where he has been for several days on legal business.

REVIVAL SERVICES WILL CONTINUE ALL THROUGH THE WEEK

Sunday Was a Big Day at the Third Street Church Revival—Week of Great Services Expected.

The Third Street M. E. Church had a big day yesterday. Large crowds were in attendance at each and every service. Intense interest was shown in the soul-tirring sermons delivered by Rev. Peters. The morning sermon on "The Real Heart" was surely a strong appeal to the church. The text was the words of Christ "As a Man Thinketh in His Heart So is He." He made it a special application to those church members who were disloyal to the church. Many give the excuse that they haven't the time to give to church activities, yet they find time to go to other things. They go where their "heart" is. The things one thinks of are the things they give attention to. If they think of God and the church they will attend the church. It was a message that every church member in the city should have heard.

The evening sermon was a strong evangelistic appeal to the sinner on the basis and pertinent illustration he put the appeal so forcibly that it seemed remarkable that any sinner could resist the invitation. The audience was deeply impressed. The good work is going on.

Never did a chorus show up better than did this big chorus yesterday day. The special selections were well rendered. With nearly forty voices under the directions of such a leader as Carl Dadds why wouldn't the music be great? Mr. Dadds is very much encouraged over the work of his choir and promised great things during this week. As a prelude to the evening service the Sunday school played a medley overture of the "Billy Sunday" songs that proved quite an innovation. Expressions of approval and appreciation could be heard on all sides for the splendid Gospel music being rendered for the meetings.

Services every evening this week at 7:30 o'clock. Theme for this evening's sermon "Preparation to Meet God." In addition to the special choruses numbers a quartet from the Baptist church choir composed of Mrs. H. C. Barnes, Mrs. L. Langfels, Prof. Caplinger and Mr. Carl Kirk will sing selection. It is hoped that the Maysville people will so appreciate these evangelistic meetings that they will attend in large numbers each and every service during the week.

OH SAMMY STAR WAS IN GREAT HAGENBACK WRECK

Joe Coyle, who sang the "dope song" in Oh Sammy, the musical comedy attraction at the Washington theater Saturday night, was a tumbler with the Hagenback-Wallace circus last spring and was in the great wreck of that circus at Gary, Ind., when so many people and animals were killed. Coyle was within ten feet of his wife and daughter when they were burned up in the wreck and was unable to give them any assistance or rescue them.

STATE FARMERS WEEK IS DECLARED OFF

Influenza Situation Causes Annual Agricultural Show at Kentucky
University to Be Cancelled.

The influenza situation is blamed for cancellation of the annual Farmers' Week meeting at the University of Kentucky, scheduled to have been held January 28-31.

Announcement of the calling off of Farmers' Week came Saturday after consultations had been held by representatives of the University of Kentucky with officials of the several associations which were to have held meeting during the four days previously set aside for the annual gathering of farmers and breeders. The opinions of these men made the step necessary.

Many farmers and breeders in all sections of the State, and particularly in the Blue Grass will be greatly disappointed at this decision. The program which had been prepared by officials of the University of Kentucky in co-operation with heads of the organizations concerned, contained the names of a number of experts in lines of scientific agriculture and live stock breeding who are widely known and Kentucky farmers will be sorry to miss this opportunity of hearing them.

The Dairy Show, which is always held in connection with Farmers' Week, will be conducted despite the cancellation of Farmers' Week, according to an announcement made by the College of Agriculture yesterday. Exhibits of cream, milk and butter which have been arriving for the past several days will be judged and premiums awarded just as if the regular Farmers' Week was being held. It has always been the custom to examine the exhibits and award the premiums in the dairy show several days before the opening of Farmers' Week.

"THE VELVET HAND" TODAY "KULTUR" TOMORROW

Manager Triebel of the Pastime has booked two extraordinary feature photoplays for showing at the Pastime today and tomorrow. For today Fritz Brunette will appear in a wonderful Bluebird production "The Velvet Hand." This photodrama deals with the lives of the Italian Peasants, a plot that harks back to the days of genuine melodrama. A vigorous story of fierce love and battle. For tomorrow Gladys Brockwell will appear in "Kultur." This is a William Fox production, in which Miss Brockwell has a role which graphically portrays the incidents leading up to the World War. Both pictures will be shown at the regular admission 10c and 15c.

BOOTLEGGING CHARGE GROWS OUT OF SUN- DAY CUTTING SCRAPE

Ed Johnson Charged With Selling
Liquor and Jack Taylor Charged With Cutting In Sunday Afternoon Fracas—Trial to Be Held Tuesday.

Ed Johnson, colored, was arrested late Sunday on a charge of selling liquor in local option territory and will be given a hearing before Police Judge John L. Whitaker Tuesday afternoon. The arrest of Johnson grew out of the earlier arrest of Jack Taylor and Will Lightfoot, both colored, on charges of breach of the peace.

Lightfoot and Taylor got into an argument over Taylor's woman. It seems as though Lightfoot has been making eyes at the damsel of color for some time and Taylor took exception to his attention. The trusty blade was resorted to and Lightfoot received a few flesh wounds at the hands of Taylor.

After the arrest of this pair it developed that liquor figured in the escapade as well as woman and song and in a short time the police had Ed Johnson, of color, under arrest on a bootlegging charge. It is alleged that Johnson sold four half pints of liquor to Taylor for the sum of six dollars and that this liquor caused the trouble between Taylor and Lightfoot. One of the gentlemen of color said to be in the whiskey deal who is known as "Big Boy" made good his escape.

The whole affair will be aired in police court Tuesday afternoon.

BATES AGAIN CAPTURED BY TENNESSEE SHERIFF

Escaped Longview Inmate Is Arrested at Chattanooga After Making
Two Escapes.

William Jennings Bates, 21 years old, who escaped from the strong ward of Longview Hospital, Cincinnati, and is thought to have passed through Mason county escaping from the Cincinnati asylum is in the custody of the Sheriff at Chattanooga, Tenn., according to information which reached Chief of Police William Cope-land of Cincinnati yesterday. Longview Hospital authorities were notified and an attendant was detailed to go to Chattanooga today to bring Bates to Cincinnati.

This is the second apprehension of Bates since his escape. He was captured at Middlesboro, Ky., but escaped from a Deputy Sheriff who was returning him to Cincinnati, by leaping from a train. He created excitement in the neighborhood of his escape by appearing at various farmhouses with manacled hands. When a posse was organized he disappeared and all trace of him was lost.

Bates was committed to Longview by authorities of Kenton county, Kentucky, last May, after he had killed his brother-in-law, Ralph Trotter, merchant, Norton, W. Va., on a Louisville and Nashville Railroad train as it was nearing Covington. Trotter being stabbed in his heart while asleep.

Trotter was bringing Bates to Cincinnati, where lunacy proceedings were pending.

UNABLE TO PROCURE MARRIAGE LICENSE

A couple that appeared at the Court House late Saturday afternoon to obtain a marriage license was unable to do so because the bride-to-be was under legal age and did not have the consent of her father. The groom explained that the bride's mother was dead and that she had not seen her father for years but he was thought to be living in Mason county. It was asked that the County Judge appoint a guardian that the couple might be married but he refused to do this until diligent search had been made for the father and the license was not granted.

BOYS STEALING LEAF TOBACCO BY THE WHOLESALE

Warehousemen Complain That Small Boys Take Much Tobacco From Warehouses, Cars and Wagons
—Youngsters May Get
In Trouble.

Complaint has been made during the past week by local tobacco warehousemen that boys, ranging in age from nine to fifteen years, have been taking much tobacco from warehouses, floors, railroad cars and farmers' wagons.

This same complaint has been made most every year but warehousemen say that this year the lads have made richer hauls. The tobacco is of much more value this season and the boys have taken much more than heretofore.

Sometime during Saturday night a carload of tobacco on the siding at the American Tobacco Company's plant was opened and quite a quantity of tobacco was stolen. This is supposed to be the work of boys.

Some of the warehousemen have lost so heavily of tobacco from in and around their warehouses this season that they have ordered their watchmen to allow no small boys to loaf about the house.

The parents of some of the boys have been told of their son's actions and have been warned to see that there is no repetition while many of the boys have been warned by the warehousemen and their watchmen.

Tobacco thus stolen by the lads is sold and in some instances boys have been known to make good sums.

Thus far, it is understood, none of the boys have been reported to the officers but unless they desist the warehousemen will report them to the Juvenile court.

Parents should see that their boys are not among this gang of young tobacco thieves. By stealing tobacco they will cultivate a habit that may lead them into the theft of something of great value and therefore into serious trouble.

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

MEETING OF EMERGENCY

The greatest emergency the world has witnessed since it began to rain upon Noah is being met right now in Europe. Two million of Uncle Sam's boys are over there looking after the common good of the world at large—incidentally after the interests of America. And they will have to stay upon the job until it is done—until things are righted again; until order is brought out of chaos.

This may be only two or three months longer. It may be as many years. But while they are there they must be taken care of adequately. They must be clothed and fed and lodged comfortably. We don't want a death list in camp greater than was suffered in action. We want those boys to come back; every possible one of them.

Uncle Sam estimates that it costs $423.27 a year to equip and maintain a soldier in Europe. So if they remain a year it means approximately $1,000,000,000. And every added month will mean proportionately more.

Part of the proceeds from the coming Liberty Loan will be devoted to this end. Part of it will go into the rehabilitation fund for putting the injured soldiers back upon their feet. Part of it will go for insurance claims. The rest will go to meet the hundred and one other demand of this greatest of world emergencies since the dawn of civilization.

Uncle Sam has been peacemaker of the world so far in this world war. He has astounded the wisacres of a dozen nations with his Johnny-on-the-spot way of accomplishing things, and he has poured out his wealth of treasure like water for the world good.

This is no time for Americans to think of letting up. We must stand by our guns; by our record; by Uncle Sam. We must make the next loan another big success.

THE DANGER OF IT

Those who are wavering on the subject of government ownership of railroads may find for thought in a little story that is going the rounds of the press concerning an incident that is alleged to have happened in the private ear of Director-General McAdoo on one of his trips.

It is related that a friend who was traveling with McAdoo remarked upon the enthusiastic ecomiums pronounced on McAdoo by numerous railroad employees who boarded his car from time to time. "Yes, and they are all equally as enthusiastic. And there are 2,300,000 of them—and every one a voter."

It is immaterial whether this incident actually occurred or not. It is immaterial whether McAdoo actually said that there were 2,300,000 of them, and every one a voter. That is the fact, whether he said it or not, and that fact will always be in the mind of a government director of railroads. The votes will never be lost sight of under government ownership.

The efficiency, the economic soundness, the success of the railroads or of any other enterprise, under government operation, will eventually be subordinated to the one outstanding fact that every one of the employees are directly affected by a raising of wages or a shortening of hours of labor, and their votes can and will be influenced by the action of the political director general.

As a corrupting influence in American politics, there is no greater menace than government ownership.

Nearly every day now we meet some cold and shivering, though still beautiful stranger into whose shell-like ear we murmur as we pass: Longer, higher and heavier underclothing is warmly recommended this year by the experts in such matters.—Ohio State Journal.

BOCHE MONEY WAS ALL HE HAD

Paris—Three thousand miles from home, just out of a German war hospital, where he had been a prisoner, and with no idea where his one-time friends of the 77th Division might be, Corporal Benjamin D. Nasser, of Brooklyn, N. Y., arrived recently at Nancy with his total assets consisting of a pocketful of German money. He hobbled into the Enlisted Men's Hotel and approached G. E. Wier, the Y. M. C. "I haven't a nickel, except Boche money," he told Wier. The Jerries took all my regular Uncle Sam cash and gave me 'fin' money. Now I want to spend some at your hotel. I swap this Kaiser 'gelt' for our own brand."

THE NATIONAL OBJECTIVE

America entered the world war only when in honor there was no other alternative. When German arrogance, German outrage and German murder of our women and children on the high seas reached a point beyond further forbearance.

But once made it was no halway decision.

America went into the war to see it to a finish. To finish it rightly.

And that national objective is just as strongly outlined now, with peace negotiations on, as it was when war was first declared.

Our duty before the world is just as clearly defined.

Our responsibility for tranquility in stricken Russia and frenzied Germany and the pugnacious Halkans is in no measure diminished.

And our pledge to world democracy stands unshaken.

We are just as much bound in honor to see this thing through to a right finish as we were to take our stand against Kaiserism and its attendant atrocities.

We are just as much responsible individually as we were collectively.

We would have been just as much affected, one way or the other, had Kaiserism triumphed.

And it is every man's duty to lend a willing hand in the battle for the common good. It is your duty as it is my duty. None is excepted.

Uncle Sam plays no favorites in the matter of citizenship. Every man is pleased upon an equality with his fellowmen. Duty and privileges obtain alike.

And so must duty, and obligation, and responsibility, and loyalty.

Uncle Sam is about to ask us individually to lend him our money once more, than he may effectively put the finishing touches upon the job.

That he may attain his original, his ultimate objective.

In the name of right and justice and humanity.

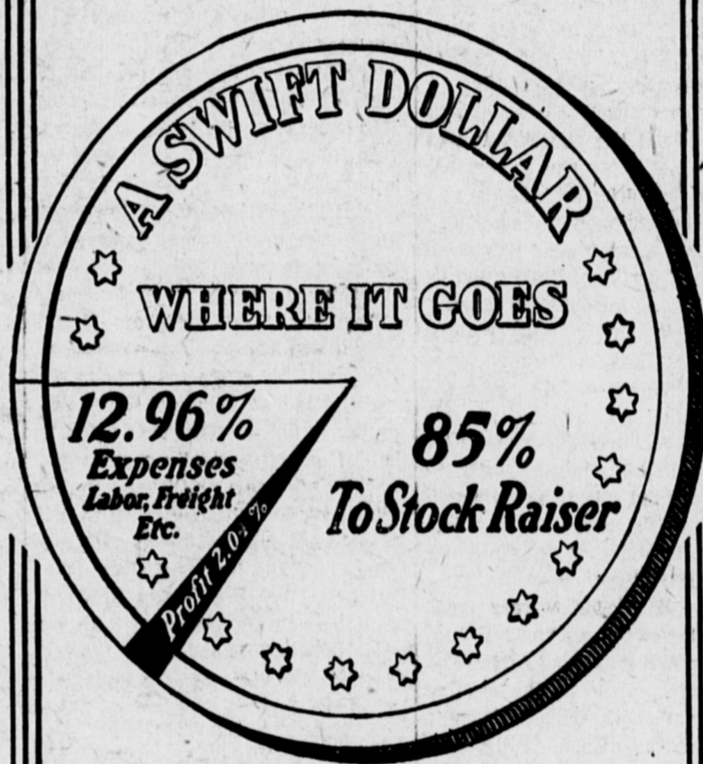

And we must come through.

HIGHWAY CONGRESS SHOWS PEOPLE READY FOR ROAD BUILDING

Meeting of First National Highway Congress Shows People Are Ready For Nation-wide Road Building.

Washington, D. C. — The action taken by the highway congress, in Chicago, which has just adjourned, after recommending the creation of a Federal High Way Commission and urging extensive highway construction, is attracting deep interest in legislative circles at the national capital. In the first place, much significance is attached to the fact that this was the first real congress devoted to highway development ever held in the United States. The enthusiasm shown and results obtained is taken to mean that the people of the country are now ready for a nation-wide road building campaign.

The fact that the highway congress was composed not only of the industries, but because state highway officials joined in with the other interests, but also a very large representation of Chambers of Commerce and other civic organizations from all parts of the United States, is being commented upon here as adding emphasis to the fact that the time is at hand for real road-building.

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Blakeslee, who loses no opportunity to urge a greater use of the highway for parcel post motor routes, is back in Washington, highly elated over the aroused interest in modern road construction. He foresees a rapid extension of that service as fast as permanent roads can be constructed, and from his experience so far in the operation of parcel post routes he is more firmly convinced than ever that the key to reduced living lies in the road. Others in official and legislative circles are also beginning to see, judging from public comment as the result of the deliberation of the first highway congress, that no amount of marketing legislation will equal the paved road as a means of effecting economies to the advantage of the producer. To put the matter briefly, the first highway congress, attended as

MRS. MAY COULD NOT WORK

Made Well and Strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbia, Pa. — "I was very weak and run down and had dragging-down pains and pains in my back. I could not get around to do my work and had to sit down and rest often during the day. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the papers and read the testimonials, so I thought I would try it. Now I am healthier than I ever was in my life, and can recommend it to any woman who suffers as I did." — Mrs. ELIZABETH MAY, R.F.D. No. 1, Columbia, Pa.

The reason Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and the letters which we are constantly publishing from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of this famous root and herb medicine.

PRESIDENT WILSON CALLS FOR BOYS' AID

President Wilson has made the following appeal to the boys of the United States: "I call upon the able-bodied boys of the land to turn in hosts to the farms and make certain that no pains and no labor is lacking in this great matter."

This is an index to the importance of the United States Boys' Working Reserve. The Government is straining every nerve to meet the enormous demands which will be made upon this country in 1919 by the famine-stricken peoples of Europe and Asia. The production of foodstuffs in this country must be greater than in any previous year if we are to forestall starvation in many sections of the East. Before the war this country exported 5,533,000 tons of foodstuffs annually to Europe. In 1918 this had increased to 11,820,000 tons. Just before the armistice was signed Mr. Hoover estimated that the 1919 requirements would be in excess of 17,500,000 tons. Now we have Germany, Austria, Bulgaria, and Turkey begging to be fed, and the total tonnage to be exported will be enormous. In order to fulfill our moral obligation to care for these starving races, we are asking that the boys of this country do their share. It matters not whether you are town or country bred—the boy on his father's farm may enlist the same as the boy who lives in town. Your services are needed wherever you are.

Your services will be in demand, at wages in proportion to your ability. Your uniform will cost about $10 and is very serviceable. Do your bit as your big brother did. The war is over but the world must be fed.

See or write to your local Director, whose name appeared in Thursday's papers.

GEORGE KIRK,
Federal County Director.

FRENCH TRIBUTE TO "Y"

John R. Mott, general secretary of the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. has been made a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor.

Dr. Mott stated that he accepted the distinction as a recognition by the French government of the work which the Y. M. C. A. War Work Council had done to provide recreation and increase the morale of the war-weary French policy, and to cement the feeling of brotherhood that exists between France and United States. There are hundreds of American "Y" workers in the French armies and more than 1,500 Foyers du Soldat.

HOW SHALL WE COMMEMORATE THEIR VICTORY?

(By Windsor T. White)

Traversing the Campaign di Roma, Italy, is the world's most historic highway. Time and foe have all but blotted out the condition, has withstood the ravages of 22 centuries. It stands today a monument to Roman road-building skill and an endorsement of the part played by good roads in enabling the Roman Empire for so long a time to subdue every would-be conqueror.

France is triumphant today because she has long recognized the military value of good roads. In winning the war, summed up by the highways of France were of vital importance. Verdun was saved, the great Somme defense made possible, the Chateau Thierry victory achieved through the ability of French roads to carry steadily the mighty engines of Mars. And France plans to further her excellent system of highways by building a Sacred Way from Alsace to the North Sea, as a fitting monument to her valiant troops.

We of America are discussing suitable memorials to our fallen and returning troops. Shall such memorials be cold, useless and often unmeaning shafts of stone; or useful, educational and health-giving highways — VICTORY HIGHWAYS?

More monuments, perhaps, have been erected to the honor of the immortal Lincoln than to any man. Yet are any of these as beneficial from any standpoint as the great Lincoln highway which bands the continent?

Investigators tell us that the economic and moral fibre of any community is determined by the condition of its highways. Not by its schools, nor its church spires, nor its banks, nor its factory chimneys,—but by its roads. Give a community the right kind of roads and these other indications of advancement are sure to follow.

What more fitting monument, then, can we build in honor of our heroes than memorial roads? How can any state, county, or community better stabilize the achievements of its valiant sons than in a permanent road dedicated to them? And all of these to be planned and built so as to form a great system of Victory Highways. Victory Highways, that the lasting defense of America shall be made certain. Victory Highways, on which schools will be erected to teach our children the arts of peace. Victory Highways, over which food will move from farm to city and manufactured products back to the land.

We may study to obtain the most magnificent effects in stone and bronze and marble; we may plan to erect shafts to the very clouds; we may hope to dwarf anything that has been done in colossal architecture. But nowhere can we find a better way to appropriate the memorial offerings of a grateful nation than in the construction of permanent roads which in their completion will form a great system of Victory Highways.

WOOD FROM STUMPS AND WASTE TREES

Suppose you look over your woodlands and farm, and see if you do not find an abundance of wood besides your best trees. See if you do not find wood that should by all means be used in order to save it and to help improve your farm.

First, what about your dead and down trees? Don't you have some, if not many of them? They make good wood; they dry out quicker and burn better than green wood. Such trees ought to be used. The appearance of your woods is improved if such trees are taken out. Their removal means just that more fuel put out of the way of a woods fire if one should happen to burn them. If you take out such trees, you get at least four distinct advantages: 1. The use of the fuel. 2. The saving of good trees that would be cut otherwise. 3. You make an improvement. 4. You remove a fire menace.

Second, what about your poor class of trees in your woods—such as the crooked, knotty ones, and those with their tops under the others? Such trees will never make good trees. Why not use them for fuel in your own home, or haul them to market for others who do need the fuel? You not only get the pay for the wood, but you also improve your woodlands, giving the better trees a better chance to grow. Pile your brush too; it helps the cook, and gets it out of the way. Do not leave it scattered all over the place. You thin your corn and cotton, but you don't take out the best stalks. Why not study your trees all help them? They do not grow well if they are too thick in the stand.

Third, how about your fence rows? How close to your fences do you cultivate? How many trees do you have growing along them—trees that need to be removed? How far out into the field do the trees along your fence rows virtually kill the soil? No doubt much of your winter wood could be gathered from your fence rows. Why not clear them out, improve your fields and get your winter wood all at the same time? Yes, it takes work, but you are paid for it in the wood you get and the improvement you make. You can grow trees on your fence rows, but not timber. Don't try it. Grow your timber in your woods, and save it when you can by cutting your fire wood from trees that are otherwise useless or harmful in your fence rows.

Fourth, why is it desirable to let the stumps stay in your newground until sometimes the land is actually worn out? This is what happens sometimes; the land is about "gone" before the stumps. After a reasonable time they can be pulled out and used for fuel also. Perhaps they may be profitably blasted out, and this would help split them. But even if you do not wish to use the stumps for fuel wood, what a loss it is for you to plow around them year in and year out. They take up valuable space, good areas that would produce enough to pay for the time you would consume in removing the stumps.—Southern Agriculturist.

RED CROSS WORKERS MUST CONTINUE THEIR WAR TIME WORK

Signing of the Armistice and the Meeting of the Peace Conference Should Not Cause Workers to Become Lukewarm.

Pleading for the workers of the Red Cross to remain loyal in face of the appearance of peace and continue their good work, the following letter has been addressed to Miss Grace Bierbower, at the head of the Mason County Chapter.

The letter, which follows, was read in all the city churches Sunday: January 22, 1919.

Miss Grace Bierbower, Maysville, Ky.

My Dear Miss Bierbower:

Our quotas have been so interfered with by the influenza, the signing of the armistice and the Christmas holidays that it is necessary now to take stock, so to speak, and to find out just where we stand. I am going to ask you to answer this inquiry of mine by return mail, if possible, so that I can report to Cleveland next week.

The Kentucky women have done such splendid work during the active period of the war that at a conference at Cleveland last week, I felt proud to say that I knew they would answer every call as long as the Red Cross needed them.

The future plans are indefinite. Not until Mr. Davidson's return from France will the further needs of Europe be outlined. Meantime, each chapter should strive to finish with all possible speed the work in its work-room and those of its branches. Speed is our slogan now. Every garment in your quota is needed now, and suffering will result if you fail.

If some of your workers have become luke-warm, announce through the papers and the pulpit that the need is as great, if not greater now, and that these winter garments must be finished, or we fall in our responsibility. Let us show our appreciation of the fact that our boys and our people are not going to suffer as the other nations have suffered, by relieving the distress of these victims of the war.

Should the printing of any part of this letter in your local paper help to spur on your workers, please feel free to use it.

Thanking you for your splendid co-operation at all times, I am,

Cordially yours,

LIDA HOFFMAN,

Superintendent Chapter Production For Kentucky.

HEALTH OFFICER WILL URGES RESTRICTION REMOVED

County Health Officer J. S. Locke, Recommends to State Health Board Removal of County Restrictions.

Several days ago when the influenza situation in Mason county was probably at its worst, Dr. McCormick, Secretary of the State Board of Health, in a long distance telephone message to Dr. J. S. Locke, Mason County Health Officer, ordered that all stores in Mason county outside the city of Maysville be closed at six o'clock each evening. This order has been carefully carried out though there has been much complaint.

The influenza situation in Mason county outside the city of Maysville has been improving during the past several days until Dr. Locke now believes conditions warrant the removal of these restrictions. Acting upon this belief he has written the State Board of Health asking that these orders be rescinded for Mason county. He expects to hear from Dr. McCormick immediately and will remove the restrictions at the earliest possible moment.

The general health condition in the county is very encouraging just at the present time.

Revival Services

Sunday was the most beautiful day we have had this winter and the members and friends of the Bethel Baptist Church took advantage of the beautiful weather, by coming out in large numbers.

The eleven o'clock services were well attended and very impressive. The Superintendent and teachers have lined up. The Sunday School, they too have taken on new life in this great campaign against sin.

Rev. Timberlake preached a powerful sermon on "The Smitten Rock of Ages" when the doors of the church were opened seven came forward and professed faith in Christ.

In the afternoon the patriotic subject, "Fighting For An Honorable Peace", was ably discussed, he paid a high tribute to our soldiers. At the evening services there was an overflowing crowd and Rev. Timberlake preached as never before on "The Open Door of Opportunity," when he had finished every Christian felt the Lord had been in our midst. The chorus sang well and they are supporting the evangelist by singing as no revival chorus has ever sung.

There have been fifteen additions so far. This is the last week of our meeting let us do all we can to save souls for Christ. We want to assure our Methodist friends that we appreciated their presence at each service. All are welcome.

"KUL TUR"

TUESDAY, JAN. 28th

CITIZENS:

In the new Wm. Fox production, Mrs. Brockwell has a role which graphically portrays the incidents leading up to this World War.

This is an absorbing photodrama that treats only of events that brought on the great struggle. It shows in thrilling scenes the intrigues of the German War Lord and a part played by a beautiful woman, who, through hate, brought to a head the deadly Teuton plot that resulted in the rape of democracy. There is not a moment throughout this wonderful film that does not throb with true dramatic action. I am sure after seeing it, you will say "Kultur" is one of the most stirring photodramas ever filmed.

Come yourself and bring your friends. This picture is a rare treat at a price of 10c and 15c.
